Vacancy – Senior Inbound Consultant

New Frontiers Tours is a full-service, wholesale Inbound Tour Operator offering exceptional expertise and advice for travel to Southern Africa. In an industry that is notoriously competitive it is becoming increasingly important to stand out from the crowd and ensure that what we offer is comprehensive, cutting-edge and unique. In order to separate ourselves from our competitors, New Frontiers invests a significant amount of time into making sure that our consultants are equipped with all the tools to give the latest and most thorough advice to help design tailor-made, specific and unforgettable African itineraries. The emphasis at New Frontiers has always been on maintaining the personal touch and one-on-one relationships characteristic of smaller operations and although we continue to grow, the relaxed open-plan working environment, vibrant staff and collective sharing of ideas and knowledge has ensured that we retain the creativity, ingenuity and enjoyment that is such a vital part of the travel industry.

Location: Office based in Durban with the option of flexibility through a hybrid model, or full time remote depending on competence and years of experience.

Remuneration: Market related CTC with benefits that include a Provident Fund, educational travel, quarterly incentive and various benefits as part of BIDTRAVEL

Purpose of role:

Design, co-ordinate and project manage the logistics around the booking of accommodation, transfers, tours, excursions, flights and car hire to meet the client's expectations, as well as managing and coordinating the clients on the ground travel experience.

Requirements include a minimum of 3-5 years inbound travel industry experience including strong Southern Africa product knowledge and exposure to travel reservations systems.

Intuition, creativity, great communication, attention to detail and a positive, team player attitude are key!
